ESTABLISHED BY FRANKLIN 1768.

VOLUME CXXX—No. 43.

NEWPORT, R. I., APRIL 7, 1888.

WHOLE NUMBER 6,751.

The Newport Mercury,

—PUBLISHED BY—
JOHN P. SANBORN,

272 Thames, Cor. Pelham St.,
NEWPORT, R. I.

THE NEWPORT MERCURY was established in June, 1768, and is now in its one hundred and thirtieth year. It is the oldest newspaper in the Union, and with less than fifty exceptions, the oldest printed in English language. It is a large quarto weekly of fifty-six columns, with interesting reading, editorial, State, local and general news, well-selected miscellany and valuable information. It is published at the rate of $2.00 a year in advance. Single copies, five cents. Extra copies can always be obtained at the office of publication and at various news rooms in the city. Specimen copies sent free, and special rates given at retailers by addressing the publisher.

Local Matters.

The Constitutional Amendment.

The Constitutional amendment extending the suffrage does not go into effect until the fourth Tuesday in November in this year. The bill published on Wednesday in the Providence Journal is not the bill submitted to the people for their ratification. That bill provided that the amendment if passed should go into effect early in May. The provisions of the bill actually passed read as follows:

Sec. 7. The Governor, Secretary of State and Attorney General, shall count and declare the first Tuesday in November, 1888, and the third Tuesday, and the Governor shall announce the result by proclamation, on or before the first Tuesday in November, and if said proposition of amendment shall have been approved by three-fifths of the voters of the State present and voting thereon at the election, and shall be numbered as an additional article in amendment thereto.

Cantata of Queen Esther.

The story of Esther, which is to be performed at the Opera House on the 8th and 10th instants, under the auspices of C. E. Lawton Post, for the benefit of the soldiers and sailors' memorial fund, is being rehearsed twice each week at the Artillery armory under the leadership of Prof. French. There will be over one hundred performers with some sixty voices in the chorus. Ex-Mayor Bodlow, who has distinguished himself as an amateur actor in the Bellevue Dramatic Club, has kindly offered his services in "coaching" the actors. A leading feature of the entertainment will be the triumphal march participated in by about sixty children in costume.

The members of Washington Commandery voted, Tuesday night, to accept the invitation of Boston Commandery to visit them on the evening of May 10th. They will leave here at 4.50 p. m. on a special train and returning leave Boston at 11.45 p. m. This train will make the trip between Newport and Boston in something less than two hours, stopping only at Fall River and Taunton. People outside of the Order will be permitted to go on that train by paying the fare one way. In other words the Old Colony Co. will make this sort of a theatre train and will carry all from Newport to Boston and return for $1.70 each.

The sacred concert given by the Shiloh Baptist church was a complete success. The society will make nearly $1,000 out of it. Mrs. Jeter, wife of the pastor, was largely instrumental in the success of the affair, and to show their appreciation of her efforts, a large number of the members made her a surprise visit Thursday evening, it being her birthday anniversary, and presented her a purse of over eighteen dollars. A supper was served and a thoroughly pleasant evening enjoyed.

The Lucy Hayes Division of Careful Builders of this city, will next Thursday evening repeat their Mother Goose entertainment, which was so enthusiastically received at Odd Fellows Hall on the evening of March 20. Next week's entertainment will take place at the Opera House and will include the same programme as before with numerous additions. The performers will all be in costume, and their acting is first class.

Without making much noise about it, the sun has quietly been moving northward—of course we speak of relative movement—until his rays now have considerable direct power. If other conditions prove favorable, the election being over, warm weather may come at a bound.

Several sailors on board of a tug lying at the Torpedo Station wharf came near being suffocated by coal gas yesterday morning.

The cottage hunters are beginning to put in an appearance.

This will be a lively day in Newport, politically.

Unity Club.

This Club gave a most enjoyable "Social" last Tuesday evening, consisting of music, vocal and instrumental, and a dramatic reading of Goldsmith's old English comedy, "She stoops to conquer." This play is at present in preparation for being acted at Wallack's Theatre in New York by a first class company, so our Newport friends seem somewhat to have anticipated the Metropolitan. Tuesday evening's reading was remarkably well done, as bright as could be, and everyone of the readers was much above the average. The parts were taken as follows: Mrs. Harcourt by Mrs. Buckhout, Miss Neville by Miss Florence Newton, Miss Harcourt by Miss Taylor, Harcourt by Dr. A. F. Squire, Marlowe by Mr. A. O'D. Taylor, Jr., Hastings by Mr. H. W. Cozzens, Jr., Tony Lumpkin by Mr. L. K. Carr, Sir Charles Marlowe, Landlord, Digory and Jeremy, all by Dr. Gillett. The audience were heartily amused from beginning to end of this reading, which brought out marked talent both on elocutionary and dramatic description as the reading was really acted as well as read. The principal vocalist of the evening, was Mrs. Alice Galvin of New York who possesses a fine voice of unusual range, and she sang twice. Miss Taggart of our own city also sang twice, and to very gratified listeners. Mr. Charles P. Smith played on the piano-forte with his customary skill and efficiency. The proceedings closed with a general conversation, and with refreshments.

Real Estate Sales and Rentals.

Store No. 10 Travers' Block has been rented by A. P. Baker to Harris & Dixon for the season.

W. Wadsworth Sherman has rented his cottage on Victoria and Ruggles avenue for the season.

Elizabeth S. Johnson has sold an estate, including two dwelling houses, on the south side of Holland street.

Richard C. Derby has rented his cottage on Kay street and Main Avenue to Ronald Thomas, of New York, for the season.

A. P. Baker has rented for the heirs of the late Alfred Smith room 154 Bellevue Avenue, to Redford & Clarke for the brokerage business.

Mrs. George Tiffany has rented, through A. P. Baker, her farm in Middletown to David and Daniel Iraman, of this city.

Geo. Babcock Hazard has sold a lot of land with buildings on Fourth street to Susie H. Wixon, for $100.

The prohibition vote in this city Wednesday averaged about 70. To get this number the party held two mass meetings in the Opera House, chartered a column in a newspaper, in which to circulate lies about people not candidates for office, and flooded the town with circulars abusing Messrs. Taft and Rogers on the Republican ticket, besides having paid runners and other workers at all the polling places in the city. These seventy votes must have been somewhat expensive.

The official warning that Thames street will not be opened after the completion of the proposed improvements is being generally considered by the abutters and sewer and water main connections are being made all along the line. Now if there was a law whereby all that netting of telephone, electric light and telegraph wires could be removed from overhead and placed under ground much good would be accomplished.

The Easter Monday ball given by the Washington Commandery was a grand success both socially, financially and every other way. There were some three hundred persons present and the programme of dances, 19 in number, kept the floor fully occupied till about three a. m. Excellent music for the occasion was furnished by the Newport Orchestra, Prof. Mathers leader.

In another column will be found the advertisement of the New York Life Insurance Company. The figures in the advertisement make a most excellent showing for this company which is one of the oldest and strongest insurance companies doing business in this country.

The concert given at the Shiloh Baptist church Tuesday evening, by the choir and members of the church, proved a grand success in every particular. The audience was as large as could be accommodated and the programme was rendered in a manner quite equal to professionalists.

The city highway department has contracted for tunneling Ruggles avenue for the Ochre Point sewer at $9.75 per lineal foot which is $2.25 less than City Engineer Bentley's estimate.

The theme of the sermon at the Second Baptist church to-morrow afternoon is to be bearing the cross. Evening subject, The Self-Exiled Wanderer. Everyone welcome.

Mr. Levi Johnson and family have arrived at their cottage on Everett street for the season.

CITY COUNCIL.

Monthly Meeting—Routine Business—Expenses $27,491.20

The City Council held its regular monthly meeting for April Tuesday evening with a full board in the upper chamber and two absentees in the lower. The report of the Finance Committee was read and received and on its recommendation the following bills were ordered paid from the several appropriations:

Fire Department	$3,421.20
Expenses and Vagrants	256.40
City Asylum	2,167.41
Watch and Police	1,671.41
Public Schools	4,491.15
Streets and Highways	2,563.57
Water Sewer	1,532.91
Watering Streets	3.00
Repairing Thames Street	22.23
Burial	356.12
Burial Grounds	50.00
Lighting Streets	2,236.70
Public Property	2,966.38
Books, Stationary and Printing	234.96
Dog Fund	21.75
Board of Health	250.12
Freely Paid Fund	17.48
Ward Meetings	1.60
City Engineer	4.00
A. N. Littlefield Burial Ground Fund	6.00

Total $27,491.20

The report of the committee on Streets and Highways was received and on its recommendation resolutions were passed appropriating $203.41 in payment of all claims of the Newport Water Works Company against the city up to Jan. 1, 1888; authorizing the laying of a pipe sewer in Division street, south of Mary, at $150; authorizing repairs to sidewalks and gutters at Easton's Beach at a cost not to exceed $100; directing the laying of a pipe sewer on Poplar street, between Washington and Second, at a cost not to exceed $250, and appropriating $200 for cleaning out the gravel-enclosed of the settling-tank at the main-sewer outlet.

The report of the committee on Street Lights, with accompanying bids for lighting the streets the coming year, was read and received, and the bids were referred back to the committee with the request for recommendations.

A communication, announcing the nomination of Henry E. Turner, Jr., for the position of Executive Officer, was received from the Board of Health, but, when His Honor, the Mayor, invited the Common Council to meet the Board of Aldermen in joint convention for the purpose of confirming the nomination, the former board voted 7 to 0 to adjourn.

The quarterly reports of City Treasurer Coggeshall, Overseers of the Poor, Chief of Police Congdon and Inspector of Nuisances Langley were received and the former was referred to the committee on Finance.

The report of Street Commissioner Lawton, showing an expenditure of $7,532.91 on special appropriation and $2,563.57 on streets and highways, was read and received.

On recommendation of the committee on Public Property the sum recently appropriated for renovating and repairing the Common Council Chamber was increased to $300.

Alderman Newton, as chairman of the committee on Streets and Highways, made a verbal report of the fact that his committee had awarded the contract for tunneling Ruggles avenue for the Ochre Point sewer to J. W. Douglass of New York at $9.75 per lineal foot.

Petitions from Sarah R. Saunders and Mary G. Ellery et al, asking for remission of certain curbside taxes, were received and referred to the committee on Streets and Highways.

The petitions of John G. Weaver & Son and others, for grading and repairing East Lowery street; of Geo. A. Weaver and others, for sewer, grade and curb Edward street; of William Findley and others, to cover Bliss road and Whitehall street, and of Thomas Preese and others, for repairs to Vicksburg place, were received and referred to the committee on Streets and Highways.

The petition of Aaron Brant and others, for two or more lights on Vicksburg place, was referred to the committee on Street Lights.

A list of thirty-nine applicants for eating house licenses was read in the board of Aldermen, but Messrs. Newton and Hamilton objecting to granting it as a whole, it was tabled. Numerous fruit vendors, junk and eating house licenses were granted. A communication was received from the Mayor announcing the discharge of special police officer C. W. Sleeper.

All the several churches in the city held services last Sabbath especially arranged for the observance of Easter and the attendance at each was unusually large, both morning and evening. The weather which had been clear and spring-like throughout the day, took a sudden change toward night and many of the evening worshippers wished they had followed the example set by the "wise man" and carried an umbrella.

Mr. Wm. H. Barnum and Mr. Henry P. Wixon have each been presented with an estate, including land and dwellings, on the Point. The generous donor is Mr. George Babcock Hazard who, to quote from one of the recipients, "has been more than kind to me and my family throughout the winter."

Election in Newport.

The election in this city on Wednesday was probably the most hotly contested one known here for many years. The vote reached a total of 2784 out of about 3100 names on the voting list. The workers were numerous and the fight was kept up to the end each party claiming a victory throughout the day. The result was a drawn battle, there being no election except for second representative. The second contest will take place to-day. The vote in Newport was exceedingly close. Underwood ran only 27 votes ahead of Franklin; Honey only 2 ahead of Townsend; Young was elected by 40 majority; Cross by 10 votes more than Sheffield while Bardick ran behind Swinburne 24 votes; Gilpin had 18 votes more than Carry. The largest vote on the General Assembly ticket was for third representative which amounted to 2708. The following is the official result:

The State Election.

Once more the State is back in the Republican ranks. One year of Democratic rule was evidently enough for the State for the present. The Republican nominee for governor, Royal C. Taft, is elected by about two thousand majority, and Enos Lapham, the lieutenant governor, whom the Journal tried to defeat, is elected by about the same majority. Samuel H. Cross is elected Secretary of State by 1878 majority. Gen. Rogers, against whom the Democrats and Prohibitionists made the most bitter fight, has over one thousand majority. Samuel Clark, who has been so many years the faithful general treasurer, has 2087 majority over his Democratic and Prohibition competitors. In short the entire Republican State ticket is elected by fully the average majorities of former years. The General Assembly is largely Republican. In the Senate the Republicans have elected 20 and the Democrats 6 with four towns yet to elect. In the House the Republicans have elected 64, the Democrats 11, and there are 7 vacancies. This, with the lieutenant governor, gives the Republicans 81 on joint ballot, and assures the election of a Republican U. S. Senator. The old Republican leaders are mostly re-elected notwithstanding the Journal opposition. Hon. E. L. Freeman is re-elected in Lincoln by a largely increased majority. Ex-Speaker Wilson, of East Providence, made a gallant fight and almost succeeded in redeeming his town. On the Democratic side all their old war horses, Garvin, Carroll, Gorman & Co., are left at home. The change is complete and radical and assures the return of the old faithful Republican State officials to office once more. The result in this city is not entirely satisfactory from a Republican standpoint, but the party have the chance to redeem themselves to-day. The following is the result throughout the State:

The Mercury.

JOHN F. SANBORN, Editor and Proprietor
SATURDAY, APRIL 7, 1888.

The President wants a Western man about fifty-five years old for Chief Justice.

Jake Sharpe died at 9:20 Thursday night. New York will be no longer agitated over his trial.

There will be no call for black ballots to elect a Lieutenant Governor this year.

The result of the election on Wednesday takes this State out of the doubtful column for the Presidential fight.

The vote in Rhode Island this year was the largest ever cast in this State, and shows what the Republican party can do when it tries.

The third party prohibition vote throughout the State is the smallest this year that it has been for several years.

It is rumored that Prince Bismarck proposes to resign, because Prince Alexander of Battenberg proposes to marry Princess Victoria of Prussia.

Harrison and Hawley seem to be a very taking ticket for President and Vice President. Every good Republican ought to be able to support such a ticket and support it heartily.

The Democratic State and National office holders in this city were busy at work at the polls on Wednesday. What a wicked thing it would have been if Republican officials had been found doing the same thing!

"The person is not born who will see the Republican party in power again in Rhode Island." Such was the language which greeted the ears of this community one year ago. The result Wednesday proves that some people are rather poor prophets.

The Providence Journal, it is said, has contemplated coming out squarely for Cleveland's re-election at an early date. Perhaps the election on Wednesday may retard that determination somewhat. The P. J. does not fancy being on the losing side when it can avoid it.

Some one has been wicked enough to ask what the Providence Journal has got out of this Republican victory. We should say, not much. They did not want Taft for Governor, but had to take him. They tried to defeat Lapham for Lieutenant Governor, and succeeded in having him elected by nearly two thousand majority. They tried to defeat Hon. E. L. Freeman for Representative in Lincoln and had the pleasure of seeing him re-elected by five or six times the majority he had last year. It had the pleasure of seeing its own pet correspondent knocked out in East Providence and a staunch Republican elected in his place. In fact, the question may well be asked, What has the would-be dictator succeeded in accomplishing? And echo answers what?

It looks like monumental cheek, to say the least, to see the Democratic papers claiming the passage of the Bourn Amendment as a Democratic measure. It was started by a Republican legislature and advocated by Republican papers and carried through by Republican votes. To prove the latter statement we would call the attention of our Democratic readers to the fact that nearly every town that elected a Democratic Senator on Wednesday gave a majority against the amendment. Scituate, the old stronghold of Democracy, voted 310 to reject the amendment; Smithfield, 123 to reject; Tiverton 430 to reject; Cranston 345 to reject; Pawtucket 329 to reject; Barrington 138 to reject to 98 approve; These towns elected five out of the seven Democratic senators chosen. West Greenwich, another Democratic town, gave a strong majority against the measure. These facts furnish food for reflection.

Death of the Ex-Postmaster of Providence.

Mr. Henry W. Gardner, one of Providence most prominent citizens and for many years postmaster of that city, died at his home on Wednesday of Paralysis. Mr. Gardner was possessed of remarkable business sagacity and executive ability, and was a staunch Republican in politics, with which he was actively identified for many years, but never accepted an office in the gift of the city or State. He was a man of genial and sociable temperament, and associated with the leading merchants and business men of the city and State.

Jay Gould publishes an open letter to Mr. James Gordon Bennett, which is of an exceedingly personal character. He informs Mr. Bennett, among other things, that during the thirty years that he (Gould) has known him, his private life "has been but a succession of debauches and scandals," and that at no time has he ever had the entire respectability society in New York. When Mr. Gould adopts this line of attack he has the advantage, for his private life is said to be without reproach. But Mr. Bennett will doubtless find enough to say to make the public wish "a plague on both your houses."

Mrs. Waite, the widow of the late Chief Justice, was robbed of valuable jewels on the day of her husband's funeral in Toledo. They were deposited in a travelling satchel and placed beside her on a seat in the carriage. How any thief could have secured them without attracting her attention is a mystery, but that the jewels were stolen seems to be a settled fact, for no trace of them can be found. Several of the jewels were presented to her by the late Chief Justice and were prized for their historic associations and for their intrinsic worth.

Last Thursday, about noon, the bomb-boat, a schooner, and three ten-ton boats, part of the ministerial navy in this harbor, were anchored and went up the Bay, near Warwick Neck, where they met two Provincial sloops, who engaged them warmly for a short time, when night coming on, and the wind blowing excessively hard at S. E. they parted; and next morning the brig, schooner and tenders came down again.

The said two of the tenders were hulld, and received some considerable damage in their sails and rigging; the Provincial sloops, we hear, received scarcely any injury at all.

The same day Capt. Wallace of the Rose, sent a letter to the inhabitants of this town, demanding an immediate supply of provisions, giving as a reason that he had a number of wounded men, and threatened to execute his orders in case the provisions were not granted, but did not tell what his orders were.

Waterbury, Nov. 13, 1775.—Wednesday last, Capt. Robbins, bound from London for Boston, in a schooner loaded with beef, mutton, butter, potatoes and eggs, (all much wanted for the butchering assistance there) was taken by a privateer from Beverly and carried in there.

Cambridge, Nov. 16, 1775. Extract of a letter from General Montgomery, dated at the camp near St. John's Nov. 8, 1775. "I have the pleasure to acquaint you, the garrison surrendered last night; this morning we take possession, and to-morrow the prisoners will set off."

Newport, Nov. 20, 1775. By several gentlemen arrived in town, since the post, we are informed that the privateers in the Massachusetts Bay have taken a transport from England, with 200 troops on board; and were in pursuit of another, with a large sum of money, for the payment of the ministerial troops in Boston.

The bomb-boat, and an armed schooner, on this station, and on Friday a number of men from the schooner landed on Providence Island and took out of the house of Mr. John Sheldon a great many articles of wearing apparel and household furniture, to the amount, 'tis supposed, of several hundred dollars; the particulars of which we have not time, nor room, to insert this day.

Extract of a letter from General Burgoyne to a Noble Lord, dated Boston, June 25, 1775. Boston is a peninsula, joined to the mainland only by a narrow neck, which on the first troubles General Gage fortified; arms of the sea and the harbor surrounded the rest of the same side, one of those arms to the north is Chatter-Town, or rather was, for it is now rubbish, and over it a large hill, which is also (like Boston) a peninsula; to the south of the town is a still larger scope of ground, containing a tongue of land, and called Dorchester, the heights as above described, both of which and south (the soldiers phrase) command the town that is, giving an opportunity of erecting batteries above any that you can make against them, and consequently are much more advantageous. It was absolutely necessary we should make ourselves masters of these heights, and we proposed to begin with Dorchester, because from the particular situation of batteries and shipping (too long to describe) and intelligible to you if I did it would evidently be effected without any considerable loss; every thing was accordingly disposed, my two colleagues and myself, (who, by the by, have never differed one jot in military sentiment), had in concert with Gen. Gage, formed the plan; Howe was to land the transports on the point, Clinton in the center, and I was to command from the casemate of the Neck, each to take advantage of circumstances: The operations must have been very easy; this was to have been executed on the 18th. On the 17th, at dawn of day, we found the enemy had pushed intrenchments with great diligence during the night, on the heights of Charles-Town, and we evidently saw that every hour gave them fresh strength; it therefore became necessary to alter our plan, and attack on that side. Howe, as second in command, was directed with about two thousand men, and landed on the outward side of the peninsula, covered with shipping, without opposition; he was to advance from thence up the hill which was over Charles-Town, where the strength of the enemy lay; he had under him Brigadier General Pigot; Clinton and myself took our stand, (for we had not any fixed post,) in a large battery directly opposite to Charles-Town, and commanded it, and also reaching the heights above it, and thereby facilitating Howe's attack. His disposition was exceeding soldier-like, in my opinion it was perfect. As his first arm advanced up the hill, they met with a thousand impediments from strong fences, and were much exposed. They were also exceedingly hurt by musketry from Charles-Town, though Clinton and I did not perceive it till Howe sent us word by a boat, and he desired us to set fire to the town, which was immediately done; we threw a parcel of shells, and the whole was immediately in flames, and the enemy's wards kept an incessant fire on the heights, it was seconded by a number of frigates, floating batteries, and one ship of the line. And now ensued one of the greatest scenes of war that can be conceived; if we look to the height, Howe's corps ascending the hill in the face of intrenchments, and in a very disadvantageous ground, was much engaged to the left the enemy pouring in fresh troops by thousands, over the land, and in the arm of the sea our ships and floating batteries engaged them; straight before us a large and noble town in one great blaze; the church steeples being of timber, were great pyramids of fire above the rest; behind the church steeples and heights of our own camp, covered with spectators of the rest of our army which was engaged; the hills round the country all in universal suspense; the roar of cannon, muskets, and musketry, the crash of churches, ships upon stocks, and whole streets falling together in ruins to fill the ear; the storm of the redoubts, with the objects above described to fill the eye, and the reflection that perhaps a defeat was a final loss of the British Empire in America, to fill the mind, made the whole a picture and a complication of horror and importance beyond anything that ever came to ray to be witnessed. Howe's left was staggered, two battalions had been sent to reinforce them, but we prevailed them on the beach seeming in embarrassment which way to march; Clinton, then next for business, took the part without waiting for orders to throw himself into a boat to head them; he arrived in time to be of service, the day ended in glory, and the success was most important considering the ascendancy it gave the regular troops; but the loss was uncommon in officers for the numbers engaged.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

The Women's Convention—Four Days in the Rain—Distant Array of Ladies from all Parts of the World—The President Receives the Distinguished Delegation of Females—Miss Susan B. Fane Hall—The President's Shoulder—The Bears It Like a Martyr—Pension Bills for the Widows of Generals Logan and Blair—Our own Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, April 3, 1888. Congress was not completely extinguished last week, but it must be confessed it was considerably overshadowed by another attraction, the Women's International Council. And the convention was quite a financial success, to say the least, its surplus being limited only by the size of the Opera House in which the gathering was held. For four days the storm clouds wrestled with the sun, and for four nights the rain pelted down and the women spat out forth and back. They were burning with the fire of too lofty an enthusiasm to bother about the weather.

It was not until the fifth day of the convention that the sun shone and the delegates from foreign countries got their first glimpse of the American Capital with its stately public buildings and its broad sweeping avenues stretching to the distance.

The wide scope of the topics discussed at the Conference gave unusual interest to the proceedings. I might say every subject that pertained to woman was considered. Attention was given to the notable advances in all lines of development, involving a review of what has been accomplished, which gave a congratulatory tone to the gathering, and drew certain representative women who would not have been attracted had the crowd had only a political and in view.

The necessity of better organization in the work for women's advancement was the main idea of the convention, and the organizations perfected as the result of the effort promise to be of historical interest and importance.

The President and Mrs. Cleveland accompanied the Women's Council a special handshake on Friday, and Susan B. Anthony, who presented the pioneers of the Woman's Suffrage movement leading the line, rested her hand on the President's shoulder during this performance and was so unique in her style altogether that she kept the President and Mrs. Cleveland laughing. There were colored women in line who were affably presented and received, brown, an Indian woman gorgeous in a gown with beaded embroidery, Norwegian, Swedish, Danish, Scotch and English ladies many of whom were elegantly dressed while a few Americans were in the wildest evolution of the dress reform. The President, unexaggerated, looking as if he had been through a thrilling experience.

Yesterday, a number of delegates to the Council occupied various pulpits of the city churches. As usual in Washington on Easter Sunday, the churches celebrated the resurrection. The Catholic and Episcopal churches were profusely decorated with flowers, elaborate musical programmes were rendered, and famous masses were sung with great pomp, while thousands of fair penitents emerged from the smoke and ashes of the Lenten season radiantly happy in new gowns and Paris pattern bonnets.

On Friday the House of Representatives spent the afternoon in discussing the two bills to pension the widows of Generals Logan and Blair at the rate of $2000 a year. The debate was interesting because one bill represented a Republican and the other a Democratic leader. Both General Logan and General Blair had been nominated by their respective political friends for the Vice Presidency in 1868 and Republican in 1864. The feelings they aroused in the House were by no means free from politics.

The widows were regarded as having inherited all the political capital and opposition of their husbands, and when the Pension bills were under consideration the atmosphere was as much charged with political feeling as if the dead men had revisited the earth again in a heated political campaign. After a long discussion both bills were passed by practically a vote, the Logan bill by 154 against 95, and the Blair bill by 148 against 95. All the Republicans and about one-fourth of the Democrats voted for both bills, and about three-fourths of the Democrats opposed both. The Logan bill was in the last Congress and was then the subject of lively political discussion. The committee on that occasion divided on party lines, and the bill was adversely reported which killed it for that Congress. This time it occupied a very different position. It was introduced by a Democrat, Mr. McShane, and was favorably reported by a majority of the committee composed of nine Democrats and six Republicans. Mr. Matson, Chairman of the committee on Invalid Pensions, led the opposition to the bill, and Bourke Cochran, who sits on the Democratic side of the House, made the most conspicuous effort in advocacy of its passage.

And now that the Blair and Logan pension bills have been disposed of in this way, it has been suggested that the rest of the deserving widows of brave defenders be likewise provided for, not forgetting those whose husbands were in the ranks.

Sub-Treasury of the United States at New York is excited by the discovery of a new and dangerous counterfeit $10 silver certificate, raised from a U. S. $1 silver certificate. The work was pronounced exceedingly clever, and was evidently done by expert counterfeiters. It is the first one of the kind that has made its appearance, and it was carefully studied. The bill came from Canada. Better examine your ten dollar silver certificates with care.

It is estimated that fifty persons committed suicide at Monte Carlo, the great gambling den of the world, during the last quarter. The proprietors' receipts during the same period increased.

The strike on the Chicago, Quincy & Burlington Railroad is practically ended. It has proved a gigantic failure for the strikers and a great loss to all parties.

An accident on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad, on Thursday, at New Hamburg, Iowa, caused the loss of a dozen lives and wounded some twenty more.

There was a tornado at Faribault, Minn., on Thursday that unroofed buildings and did considerable other damage.

The passage of the Bourn amendment will add some three thousand voters to the lists throughout the State.

SPARKING GLASS is like wit; a good thing well applied.

PORTSMOUTH.

Easter morning dawned with all the splendor and brightness of a May morning, save the keenness of the air, which had quite a wintry tinge, but the bright and glorious sunshine soon changed its chilliness.

The celebration of Easter, at St. Mary's, was attended with fine floral display, the services being of a very interesting and impressive character. The church and surroundings were beautifully and tastefully adorned with cut and potted flowers and palms.

The Flower Committee were assisted in the decorations, by the florist, Mr. Abner Lawton, of Middletown, who kindly furnished many of the plants.

On Easter Tuesday the Easter elections at St. Mary's were:

Wardens—Robert S. Chase and William H. Gifford.

Voted that a highway tax of 8 cents and a town tax of 50 cents be assessed on each and every $100 of the ratable property of town.

Voted that the sum of $70 be expended for the purchase of manikins to be placed in the schools in the study of Physiology, if in the judgment of the School Committee it be deemed expedient.

LITTLE COMPTON.

An interesting Easter Concert was given by the members of the Sabbath School in connection with Methodist Episcopal Church Sunday evening April 4th, when the following programme was rendered:—Singing by the school, Prayer by the pastor, a responsive service in which the following facts were addressed—that there are about 1,450 millions of people living on the earth, of whom 135 millions are protestants, about 25 millions of these are members of churches and that there are about 350 millions of heathen pagans; more than half the population of the earth.

Singing by the school, The Lord's Prayer, by the pastor, a responsive service in which the following facts were addressed—that there are about 1,450 millions of people living on the earth, of whom 135 millions are protestants, about 25 millions of these are members of churches and that there are about 350 millions of heathen pagans; more than half the population of the earth.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you distressed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. W. W. Wood's Sore Throat and Cough Syrup. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, soothes the gums, relieves inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It is a most valuable remedy for all children's troubles. It is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best families in the world, and is sold by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle.

To Those

Who appreciate and want a first class article, something as nice as you would make in your own home, we would say, give our Mince Meat a trial.

It is truly a home-made preparation, and nothing but the best material enters into it.

We make it ourselves, and therefore know what we are talking about. We first began the making of it about

Thanksgiving time and have sold more thus far this season than we sold altogether (of other makes) during the five years that we have been in business, which goes to show that it suits, and those that have used it speak only to praise it. Some say it reminds them of the pie meat their grandmother used to make.

It has got a record, and if you want an ideal Mince

Pie, without going to all the trouble of preparing the meat, give it a trial.

INFANTILE
SKIN DISEASES.

Our object child, now six years of age, when an infant, was afflicted with a violent, malignant skin disease. All ordinary remedies failing, we called our family physician, who attempted to cure it, but spread with almost incredible rapidity, until the lower portion of the little fellow's person, from the middle of his back down to his knees, was one solid rash, ugly, painful, itched, and unbearable. We tried to keep it, but in vain.
Finally, we were advised to try the CUTI-CURE. We did so, and in a few days the rash was gone, leaving the little fellow's person as white and healthy as though he had never been attacked. In my opinion, you will not find a more reliable remedy for this disease, and I can say that it is a strong, healthy child, perfectly well, and a reputation of the disease having been cured.

land, O.

THOUSANDS OF CHILDREN
Are born into the world with some excessive affection, such as milk crust, red head, scald or dimpled, sure to develop into an aggravating eczema, the itching, burning, and disfigurement of which make life a prolonged torture unless properly treated.

A warm bath with CUTI-CURE Soap, an exquisite skin beautifier, and a slight application of CUTI-CURE, the great Skin Cure, with a little CUTI-CURE Ointment, will cure the worst case of CUTI-CURE. It is a true Blood Purifier, and it is the only remedy for the progress of the disease, and point to a speedy and permanent cure.

Hence, no mother who loves her children,
and who takes pride in their beauty, purity, health, and in keeping upon them a child's greatest inheritance—a skin without blemish, and a body nourished by pure blood—should fail to make trial of the CUTI-CURE REMEDY.

Sold everywhere. Price: CUTI-CURE, 50 cents;
CUTI-CURE SOAP, 25 cents; CUTI-CURE OINT-MENT, 50 cents. Prepared by the FORTY-FIVE AND CHEMICAL CO., Boston, Mass.

BABY'S Skin and Scalp preserved and beautified by CUTI-CURE MEDICATED SOAP.

Constitutional Catarrh.
No single disease has entailed more suffering or hastened the breaking up of the constitution than Catarrh. The source of taste, of smell, of sight, of hearing, the human voice, the mind—each or some, and sometimes all,
yield to its destructive influence. The poison it distributes throughout the system attacks every vital force, and hence its progress is one of unmitigated suffering. It is not understood by most physicians, improperly treated by quacks and charlatans, those suffering from it are in danger of losing the use of the sense of taste, of smell, of sight, of hearing, and of the human voice. It is the most common cause of the most terrible disease of the human system, and it is the only one that is not understood by most physicians.
It is a disease that is not understood by most physicians, and it is the only one that is not

MIDDLETOWN.

Town Meeting.—The attendance at the annual Town Meeting held in this town on Wednesday, though quite full, was not equal to that of April 1887. The vote of the General Officers aggregated 100 which number was 18 less than the total vote for Governor in 1887. Melville Bull was re-elected Senator and Joel Peckham, Representative, without any ballot being demanded, and after an explanation from Mr. Bull as to what connection he had to the Mahogany case, and as to what he meant in communicating with Mr. Galvin, Council for Mrs. Mahogany with reference to said case. Mr. Galvin, in December last stated to the Town Clerk that Mr. Bull had spoken to him about the case and from this statement arose the inference that the Bull family were interested for Mahogany and his wife.

A ballot was taken for surveyor of Highways for road District No. 7, Melville Bull receiving 103 votes and Benjamin W. H. Peckham 24. There was some contest over the election of Assessors of Taxes. Robert S. Chase received 84 votes to 34 for Joshua Coggeshall and Benjamin Wyatt received 61 to 58 for David Albino, and the other three received from 118 to 120 each, being run on two separate tickets.

The following list indicates the names of town officers elected.

Moderator.—James Anthony.
Town Clerk.—Albert L. Chase.
Town Council.—Court of Probate and Overseers of the Poor.—1. Benjamin Wyatt; 2. William F. Peckham; 3. William E. Coggeshall; 4. Isaac A. Sherman; 5. A. Herbert Ward.
Justices of the Peace.—1. Nathaniel Peckham; 2. George A. Brown; 3. George Coggeshall; 4. Elisha C. Peckham.

Daniel M. Chase was elected a member of the Public School Committee to fill out the unexpired term of Philip A. Brown who has removed from the town, and Charles H. Hazard was elected a member for a full term of three years.

The salary of the Clerk of the School Committee was fixed at $25.00 and that of the Superintendent of Schools at $50.00.

Town Treasurer.—Charles H. Ward, salary $100.00.
Town Steward.—John D. Blair.

Auctioneers.—Nathaniel Peckham, James Anthony.
Assessors of Taxes.—Robert S. Chase, Benjamin Wyatt, William Smith, Stephen B. Congdon and Robinson P. Barker.

Collector of Taxes.—James Anthony, salary $100.00.
Police Viewers.—Elisha C. Peckham, George E. Ward and William J. C. Chase.

Town Auditors.—Joshua Coggeshall, Noel Coggeshall and A. Herbert Ward.
Surveyors of Land.—George A. Brown.
Surveyors of Highways.—No. 1 Charles S. Brown, 2. Clark H. Congdon, 3. Joseph L. Chase, 4. William Clarence Peckham, 5. John Spooner, 6. Elisha C. Peckham, 7. Melville Bull.

Commissioner on Stone Bridge at Howland's Ferry.—Melville Bull.
Committee in charge of Middle town Cemetery.—Charles Peckham, 2d, William Smith and Charles H. Ward. $350 was appropriated for the care and improvement of said Cemetery, and it was voted to allow 20 cts. per hour for labor performed in the repair of highways.

The Town Treasurer was authorized to hire money on the credit of the Town to an amount not to exceed in the aggregate the sum of $10,000.00, inclusive of that already hired. By the report of the treasurer it appears the present liabilities of the town amount to $8,700.04, which shows a slight increase since April, 1887. There have been some extraordinary outlays during the past municipal year, the principal one being that of $2500, for the improvement of Second and First Beach avenues.

The rate of town tax was fixed at 50 cents on each one hundred dollars, an increase of five cents as compared with the rate of 1887, and the road tax was made the same as last year, twelve cents on each $100. The appropriation for the support of public schools was increased $200, making it $1800.00 for the present year, $200 was specially appropriated to construct under drains in such roads of the town as the Town Council may designate, for the purpose of testing the value of such drains in improving the roads.

The Town Council was directed to purchase another road machine for the use of the surveyors of highways in repairing roads. The Public School Committee were directed to take into consideration the matter of securing a more thorough and efficient supervision of the public schools of the town, and to report some feasible plan for so doing, as soon as practicable.

The vote on the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the State, indicated the prevailing sentiment of the Town to be against any further enlargement of the electoral right, only 22 voting to approve said proposition, while 137 voted to reject it. This of course is accounted for by the preponderance of native born citizens who adhere to the conviction that it is inexpedient to extend the suffrage.

TIVERTON.

At the Congregational Church Sunday evening an attractive service was rendered by the members of the Sabbath School, assisted by the choir to a large and appreciative audience, when the following programme was carried out:

Reading by the Pastor, Luke 24th, 1-12 verses.
Singing by the Pastor.

A quiet wedding was celebrated Tuesday evening, March 27th, at the residence of the bride's parents on Punketsee Neck, the Rev. George W. Lawrence officiating. The wedding parties were Miss Lizzie O. Gray, daughter of Capt. George Gray, and Gilbert Alfred Jones, of Jefferson, Me. It is understood that the happy couple will make their home in Providence.

Mrs. George Ballou, of Fall River, is in town, the guest of Giles M. Chase and family.

Miss Deborah A. Chase, who has been confined to her bed through the winter, died early Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Charles H. White has returned from Pawtucket, where she has been on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. Benjamin Gage.

Alexander Pierce has returned from his trip to Newberne, N. C.

Clarence Manchester returned home from Providence last week, having finished his school year at Bryant & Stratton's Business College.

A meeting of the members of the Union Library was called on Friday evening at the residence of Capt. Jason N. Gifford, to see what disposition it should be made. It was voted to move the library to Warren Almy's, to be located until it can be disposed of, or the efforts to convert the same into a free library prove successful.

A Republican Rally was held at White's Hall, Saturday evening March 31st, quite a large attendance met for the occasion. The chairman (Jonathan Hart) called the meeting to order by introducing Dr. Abbott of Fall River, who spoke upon the principles of Republicanism, protective tariff for trade. The subsequent uses and abuses and the reasons for sustaining a Republican supremacy in Congress. Ex-Mayor Green of Fall River then took the stand, who gave a more minute description of the results of free trade upon our commerce and manufactures. Mr. Swift of Fall River a member of the bar was the next speaker, who gave a very interesting discourse and held his audience well, until half past ten in the interests of Republican principles and of Republicanism which held and saved our great country and its institutions from irrevocable ruin.

Monday evening, April 2nd a school meeting was called in District No. 1, when Harry H. Wilcox was re-elected as trustee for the ensuing year. It was also voted to assess a tax for the payment of district debt of $170.

BLOCK ISLAND.

The work on Dr. Bennett's new cottage, on High street, just above the Union House, is progressing finely. John F. Hayes is contractor and John Thomas is supervisor of the job. Mr. Hayes has recently completed a new cottage for Captain W. T. Dodge, just below the Union House. This house is very unique in design, is painted in several colors, and its exterior decoration is striking. Mr. Hayes is still at work on the new house for Nathan Mott, proprietor of the Adrian House, and has just contracted to build a cottage for a Mr. Van Nostrand, at the foot of Indian Head Neck, on the shore of Great Salt Pond. Mr. John Rose, having completed the wood work on the new addition to the Pequot House, is pushing business on the four-story hotel for Mr. Ray G. Lewis. This new house is to be on the site of the National Hotel. Mr. Rose has also contracted to build the new addition to the Pequot House, which is to be four stories high. Mr. A. D. Mitchell has several jobs under way. The Episcopal Chapel is not yet completed, and he has a gang of men finishing a new hotel on High street for Mr. Mary A. Ball. This house is to be called the Enclave. He is also just completing a new house for Mrs. Annie M. Cahill, near the Union House, making great changes to the old house. Dodge homestead, now owned by ex-Mayor Fortescue of Leavenworth, Kan., part of which consists of the addition of nearly one hundred feet of piazza, eight feet wide, around the lower story. He is also rebuilding the house of Mr. Alonzo Mitchell and is about to commence work on a new house for Mrs. Nancy Ball, near the Woonsocket House. Capt. Wm. Littlefield is putting in the foundations for a new house on the "Neck" road, near the Great Pond. Mr. L. B. Mott, proprietor of the Bellevue House has built an addition to the south end. Mr. Harry Ross has just received a load of lumber for his cottage, just west of the Union House.

Mr. R. A. Negus, the plumber and gas, steam, and water pipe fitter, has recently moved his shop into the upper part of J. W. Hooper's blacksmith's shop, near the Woonsocket House. Mr. Negus has done all the piping and plumbing in the new National Hotel; in the house being erected for Mr. Nathan Mott, and in the mammoth annex to the old Woonsocket House, and he is to do the work in the addition to the Pequot House. Most of the people here believe in employing home talent whenever it is available.

Mr. John F. Hayes recently cut off the tip of his index finger on his right hand in a mauling machine in his steam planing mill.

Sergeant J. J. Cahill, the observer in charge of the meteorological station here, has received orders to go to Albany, N. Y. Corporal William Bailey, from Baltimore, Md., relieves him. The change will be made about April 10.

There should be telephone connection between the two life-saving stations here. They are about four miles apart, and to say nothing of the convenience of telephonic communication, an occasion is likely to occur at almost any time when the ability to communicate promptly with each other might be the means of saving lives.

The workmen on the water pipe from the new reservoir are here, and a test is soon to be made.

E. R. Coe, Esq., is very sick, and his friends do not expect his recovery. He and his wife are each about 80 years old, and have been married fifty-eight years. About five per cent. of the present population of the Island have reached the age of three score and ten, and quite a number of married couples have had the opportunity of celebrating their golden weddings.

Mr. S. V. R. Hendricks, the contractor on the channel which connects the Great Salt Pond with the sea, is expected here in a few days to make arrangements for resuming work.
